later tonight) and then went next door and visited with Ruth Emmorn - - bought a blue/gray damask table cloth ($1.00), a leather belt (.50 ¢) and a sock tie (.50 ¢). Beautiful. As I was headed up Main Street ^{at 3:45 PM} I ran into Paul Obelkevich who was waiting for John at City Hall. Paul reported that he had had some difficulty cashing his check at the Liberty Bank and so I went with him there and I deposited his check in my account and then cashed a personal check for the amount of his pay check - - all this was done with the Salem Avenue teller (who had earlier rejected Paul's check). I was making a point and did so very conspicuously and forcefully, although not obnoxiously.
The Liberty bank would not cash Paul's C#5+M pay check (which is a Liberty Bank check) because Paul does not have an account there and the only identification he had on him was his Social Security Card. The bank matter solved, I took Paul & ^{would} see him and the crew later on and took my leave. I then spotted Joe Pascoe in the Liberty Bank parking lot and said hello & he & his mother (who was in the front seat of the car) gave me a ride up here.

4:30 PM - Ann telephoned. No place in Scranton where she & I bought the typewriter for Laura, Sprie & William, refunded her money for the machine when she took it back to be repaired (still under warranty). I guess the guy decided that maybe the machine would be more problems than it was worth. at any rate, Ann called and said that on day soon she would be going to Jay's office Equipment in Scranton - - from whom her father purchased many things when he was working for the Hendrick Manufacturing Company; also where I typed the $8,600 matching grant proposal.
The place is run by a Jacobino from Carbondale.
